

Published on The National Law Review <https://natlawreview.com>

---

COVID-19 Litigation Series: Leave of Absence Trends and Pitfalls During the COVID-19 Pandemic

Article By:

Ashley Prickett Cuttino

Charles L. Thompson, IV

Tina M. Bengs

---

In this episode of our COVID-19 Litigation series, Ashley Cuttino, Charles Thompson, and Tina Bengs address the latest litigation trends surrounding leave of absence requests and accommodations during the COVID-19 pandemic. The speakers discuss the possibility of remote work as an alternative to leave, documentation best practices given that agency guidance is in flux, and litigation involving individuals in vulnerable populations.

https://media.blubrry.com/ogletreedeakinspodcasts/content.blubrry.com/ogletreedeakinspodcasts/Covid-19\_Litigation\_Leaves\_of\_Absence\_Edited.mp3

© 2025, Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, P.C., All Rights Reserved.

---

National Law Review, Volume X, Number 245

Source URL: <https://natlawreview.com/article/covid-19-litigation-series-leave-absence-trends-and-pitfalls-during-covid-19>