A Look at Alternative Reimbursement Models in Value-Based Care [PODCAST]

Article By:

Ericka L. Adler

In this episode, host Ericka Adler, Roetzel shareholder and Health Law Practice Group Leader, is joined by Eric Olmsted, Ph.D., partner at Commonwealth Health Advisors, for an analysis of alternative reimbursement models for medical practices that are tied to value-based care. They define value-based care and discuss the primary reimbursement models used, including Accountable Care Organizations (ACOs) and bundled payments, along with looking at direct contracting and price transparency.
