

COFEPRIS Secure Cannabis Based Products.

Article By:

Alejandro Luna Fandiño

Gustavo A. Alcocer

Armando Arenas

Ingrid Ortiz

Karla Paulina Olvera

Luz Elena Elías

Last April, it was announced in several media that the 63 permissions of Cannabis products granted in 2018 were going to be reviewed. As a result of this review, COFEPRIS conducted verification visits to some places, whose products were covered by those permits.

On July, the authorities assured CANNABIS based products and other substances in some places due the lack of security and quality, for failing the applicable labeling regulation. In addition, activities were suspended on an establishment.

COFEPRIS keeps on monitoring, supervising, verifying, conducting inspections, among others, with the goal to avoid the commercialization of prohibited products that do not comply with the applicable regulation.

In this sense, both individuals and the authority must comply with the applicable regulation. On the part of the authority, before said verifications, inspections, seizure and destruction of objects, products or substances the authority must comply with certain formalities, giving legal certainty to individuals and safeguarding the constitutional rights. In the absence of compliance with these legal requirements or the measures are excessive or defective, it is possible to explore and eventually file legal actions.

OLIVARES will closely follow developments on the review conducted by the sanitary authority. We are available to provide our clients with the corresponding guidance in relation with these types of products and activities.

National Law Review, Volume XIII, Number 228

Source URL: <https://natlawreview.com/article/cofepris-secure-cannabis-based-products>