

TSCA Reform — Seven Years Later: Risk Management Session [Podcast]

Article By:

Lynn L. Bergeson

On June 29, 2023, B&C, along with the Environmental Law Institute and the George Washington University Milken Institute of Public Health, sponsored an all-day virtual conference, TSCA Reform — Seven Years Later. The conference was hugely successful and over 700 people registered for it. The quality of the discussion, the caliber of the participants, and the timeliness of the content inspired us to re-broadcast the discussion to our podcast audience. This panel discusses the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) authority under Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) Section 6 to manage chemical risks that EPA has determined to be unreasonable and options at EPA's disposal for deploying its authority. Panelists address how EPA manages workplace risks, enforcement mechanisms for risk management restrictions, whether EPA's risk management rulemakings are adequately addressing environmental justice concerns, potential legal challenges to final risk management rules, and much, much more.

©2025 Bergeson & Campbell, P.C.

National Law Review, Volume XIII, Number 292

Source URL: <https://natlawreview.com/article/tsca-reform-seven-years-later-risk-management-session->

podcast