On May 27, 2023, Texas Governor Greg Abbott signed into law an amendment to Texas's data breach notification law. The amendment shortens the time period for notifying the Texas Attorney General, requiring notification of a data breach as soon as practicable and not later than 30 days after discovery of the breach. The amendment also requires notification to the Texas Attorney General to be submitted electronically using a form accessed through the Texas Attorney General's Internet website. The amendment will take effect on September 1, 2023.
