

Published on The National Law Review <https://natlawreview.com>

Unfair Competition Defense Podcast-Episode 15: Insights on Chemical Litigation as It Relates to PFAS, Heavy Metals, and Prop 65 [Podcast]

Article By:

Will Wagner

You are invited to listen to Episode 15 of the Unfair Competition Defense Podcast, "Insights on Chemical Litigation As It Relates to PFAS, Heavy Metals, and Prop 65."

In this episode, Greenberg Traurig shareholder Will Wagner joins hosts Adil Khan and Greg Nylen for a discussion on consumer claims related to chemical litigation, specifically focusing on false advertising and the nuances of Prop 65 enforcement in California.

Greenberg Traurig's Unfair Competition Defense Podcast focuses on consumer protection statutes at the state and federal levels. Claims under these laws frequently are brought as proposed consumer class action litigation across many different industries. Each episode addresses key principles under these laws, new developments and, most importantly, defense strategies.

©2025 Greenberg Traurig, LLP. All rights reserved.

National Law Review, Volume XV, Number 29

Source URL: <https://natlawreview.com/article/unfair-competition-defense-podcast-episode-15-insights-chemical-litigation-it>