

Published on The National Law Review <https://natlawreview.com>

---

Vermont Enacts New Telehealth Legislation Impacting Health Insurers

Article By:

Amanda Enyeart

Jean B. LeBlanc

---

Vermont's governor recently signed S 30 into law. The legislation, which goes into effect on September 1, 2025, requires that health insurance plans provide coverage for healthcare and dental services delivered through telemedicine to the same extent as if the services were provided through in-person consultations. Health insurance plans must also provide the same reimbursement rate for services billed using equivalent procedure codes and modifiers, subject to the terms of the health insurance plan and provider contract, regardless of whether the service was provided in person or through telemedicine.

For more updates on state legislative and regulatory developments related to telehealth, check out the latest Trending in Telehealth published by the Health & Life Sciences Group.

© 2025 McDermott Will & Emery

---

National Law Review, Volume XV, Number 169

Source URL: <https://natlawreview.com/article/vermont-enacts-new-telehealth-legislation-impacting-health-insurers>