OFCCP recently sent proposed regulations regarding sex discrimination to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for review. The content of the regulations has not yet been disclosed, but OFCCP has previously stated that it intended to promulgate updated sex discrimination guidelines that reflect the current state of the law. Once OMB approves the regulations, they will be published in the Federal Register. Companies will then have an opportunity to review and send comments to OFCCP regarding the proposed regulations.
