Article By:

Laura A. Mitchell

Today, OFCCP released a new outreach and education poster. The poster, which the Agency explained was based on feedback received during “stakeholder” listening sessions, is not a mandatory posting but provided by the agency to “increase public awareness of OFCCP and its mission.” The poster highlights obligations of companies doing business with the federal government, stating these companies

"must treat workers fairly & without discrimination and

must pay all workers fairly"

The poster also provides OFCCP’s contact information and encourages individuals who believe they may have experienced discrimination to contact OFCCP.
