

Published on The National Law Review <https://natlawreview.com>

Asset Protection Planning - Part 3 - Insurance and Exemptions [AUDIO PODCAST]

Article By:

Family Law & Domestic Relations Practice

Please listen to Part 3 of a four-part podcast by Wayne M. Zell, Esq. on Protecting Your Assets from Creditors and Predators. This segment emphasizes the importance of insurance in your asset protection planning and what exemptions may be available from the claims of creditors.

Wayne Zell's extensive background as an attorney, CPA, and entrepreneur provide him a wealth of insight to his clients' business operations and challenges. For over 30 years, Wayne has counseled clients as an attorney, accountant, and business advisor in a wide range of industries, including technology, government contracting, real estate, retailing, and wealth management, with a special emphasis on tax and business planning.

Mr. Zell is the author of Part 1 and Part 2 of this series of audio broadcasts.

© 2025 Odin, Feldman & Pittleman, P.C.

National Law Review, Volume V, Number 219

Source URL: <https://natlawreview.com/article/asset-protection-planning-part-3-insurance-and-exemptions-audio-podcast>